Sandwell School Celebrates Good Ofsted

Pupils, staff and governors from Perryfields High School in Sandwell are celebrating after being graded 'Good' in its recent Ofsted report.

Perryfields High School was judged as a 'good school' after an inspection on 17 January 2018. The inspectors recognised the school has significantly improved since its last assessment in 2016, where the school was deemed as 'needing improvements'.

The report commented that since the last inspection leaders have made improvements to teaching and learning at the school, and that pupils now receive a good education.

The inspectors were particularly impressed by the schools' strong safeguarding culture, its high attendance level and by the pupil's well-mannered, courteous and polite behaviour.

The report also recognised the school for its strong English and mathematics teaching and its high-quality lessons in creative learning.

Mr Ian Barton, Headteacher, said: "We're thrilled with our latest Ofsted report and are really pleased that the comments of the inspector recognise the hard work and progress we have made over the last couple of years.

"I would like to thank all the pupils, parents, staff and governors for their continued support and dedication to the school.

"As acknowledged in the report, we have developed an aspirational and ambitious culture at Perryfields and we will continue to strive to achieve high standards and performance and learn from the recommendations of the report."
